REV. GEORGE A. GALLARELLI, S. J.
Moderator

It wasn't at all our intention--we hadn't meant to disrupt such a serene, yet deceptive surface. But in order to find out there was broken glass and rusted beer cans at the bottom of our too-calm pond, first we had to jump in. It was our most basic educative lesson.

*We have a vision, as we start out,
that we are going* to be different.

Dedication:

Listen to the Exhortation of the Dawn!

Look to this Day!

For it is Life, the very Life of Life.

In its brief course lie all the Verities and Realities of your Existence:

The Bliss of Growth,

The Glory of Action,

The Splendor of Beauty.

For Yesterday is but a Dream,

And To-morrow is only a Vision;

But To-day well-lived makes every

Yesterday a Dream of Happiness,

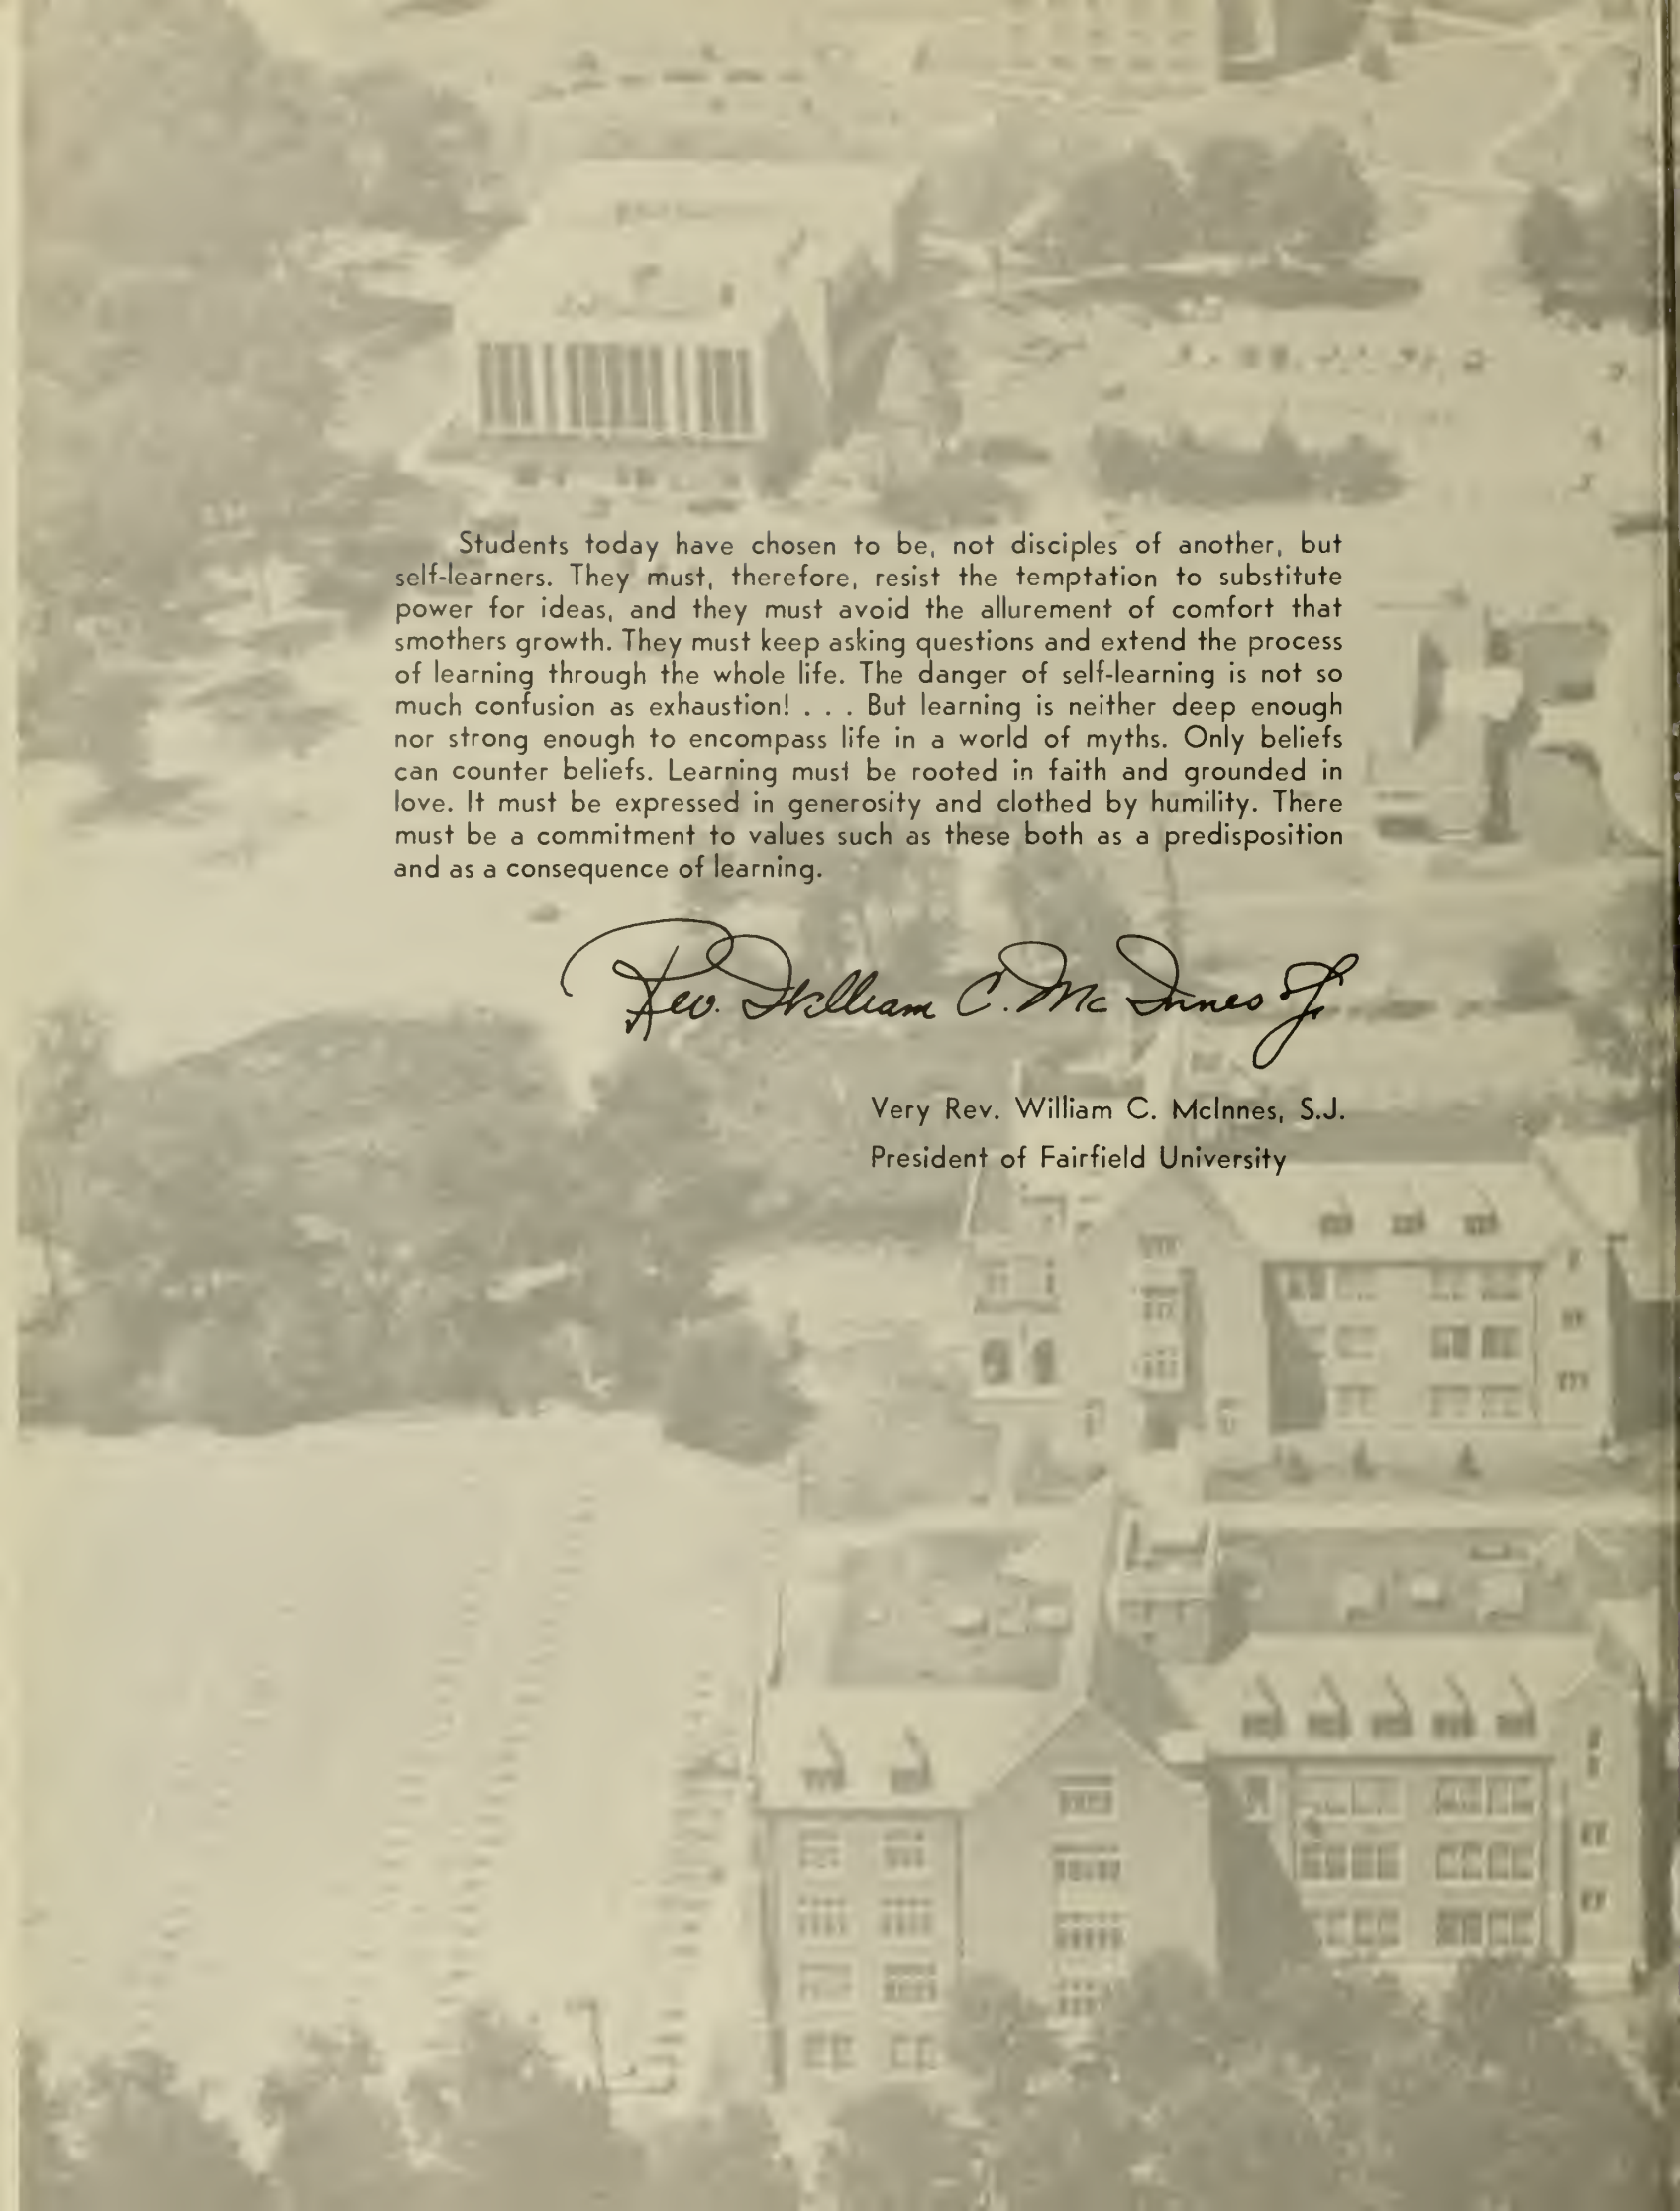

And every To-morrow a Vision of Hope.

Look well therefore to this Day!

Such is the Salutation of the Dawn.

Sanskrit.

An aerial photograph of the Fairfield University campus, showing several large, multi-story brick buildings with many windows, surrounded by green lawns and trees. The image is in a sepia or aged tone.

Students today have chosen to be, not disciples of another, but self-learners. They must, therefore, resist the temptation to substitute power for ideas, and they must avoid the allurements of comfort that smothers growth. They must keep asking questions and extend the process of learning through the whole life. The danger of self-learning is not so much confusion as exhaustion! . . . But learning is neither deep enough nor strong enough to encompass life in a world of myths. Only beliefs can counter beliefs. Learning must be rooted in faith and grounded in love. It must be expressed in generosity and clothed by humility. There must be a commitment to values such as these both as a predisposition and as a consequence of learning.

I sing of arms—and legs, and trunks, and heads;
 Of lounging thoughtless on spreads of beds;

To finish this section by June was a task;
 In fact I wasn't able to do it in time,
 And so the literary editor made me write my own rhyme
 After I got out of jail—
 And I think it's much better than his.

*Senior Year it was called most of the time,
but after exams we wanted to narrow it down.
The administration wouldn't let us have a Senior Month. Naturally we were hurt, but as it turned out, Senior Week was enough.*

Perhaps it's a strange way to close a class book (dribbling) -- but then, we knew we'd be different.

salutes

The Class of 1967

Fairfield's College Council has distinguished itself on the National, State, and local level leading to the appointment this past year of Brother Ronald J. Bianchi '64 as District Deputy of College Councils for the State of Connecticut. We single out Brother Bianchi's record of dedicated service to our Council for special recognition this year.

Ronald J. Bianchi
District Deputy

To the Graduating Class of 1967 we extend our wishes for a happy and successful future. We especially congratulate and extend our feelings of deepest gratitude to those members of the graduating class who have played an active and vital part in the workings of the Council. Their dedication and zeal have inspired us. It is our honest and heartfelt prayer that they will continue to dedicate themselves to the principles of our Order to the greater merit of our Council and our Church. We single out for special recognition the following graduating Brother Knights who have served us most honorably:

Knight of the Year Brother Richard Peck
Grand Knight's Award Brother Michael Kolesar
Outstanding Service Award Brother Gerald Serena

Thomas W. Fraher

CONGRATULATIONS

CLASS OF 1967

Our compliments on an important milestone in your life—your college graduation.

Some of you will be going on to further educational experience. Others will be entering soon into a business career.

Whatever your plans, we are very much interested in talking with you about opportunities with Warner's now—or in the future.

So, come and see us soon. It could make an important difference in your future.
